BENEVOLENCE RULED THE SOCIAL WEEK

The Races Will Claim Attention From the Fashionables.

Wedding of Miss Thompson and Mr. Pierce Is Announced—A Dinner by M. and Mme. Romero.

The social week has been most benevolently intentioned and successful success has crowned the efforts of the energetic workers for the benefit of the poor. The matinee Wednesday was a brilliant event and so extremely picturesque and pretty, it was doubtless the duplicated by the young. Bicycle parties and outings of every kind have been the result of summer weather and the races will probably monopolize the social attention during the coming week.

Cards are out from Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Thompson for the marriage of their daughter Grace, Lena to Mr. William F. Pierce. The ceremony will take place at Vermont Avenue Christian Church Wednesday, April 29, at 8 p. m.

The Mexican Minister and Madame Romero gave a dinner Friday evening. Guests were: Mr. Carbo, minister of Ecuador, Mr. Reuter, secretary of the Legation, White, Gen. and Mrs. Batcler, representative and Mrs. Sayers, Judge and Mrs. Springer, Mr. Vega Simon, Mexican consul to Paris, Mrs. John Thompson and Wynn.

Miss Betty Sargeant, of Boston, is the guest of Lady Fairclough, at the British Embassy. Miss Sargeant is a granddaughter of Jefferson Coolidge, late minister to France. The ladies of the embassy will not be at home this afternoon.

The marriage of Miss Tennant, of Richmond, to Mr. Henry Fairfax, of Virginia, will take place June 4.

Secretary Lamont has returned from a visit to New York.

Lieutenant Albert Todd, First Artillery, is in the city on leave of absence.

Owing to the additions being made to their Adirondack cottage, the Brazilians, Minister and Madame Mendonca will remain in the city much later this season than is their custom.

Mrs. Stevenson and her daughter, Miss Julia Stevenson, and niece, Miss Letitia Scott have given up the idea of going abroad for the summer.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Joseph Sterrett have sent out cards for the marriage of their daughter Margaret to David Mine of Philadelphia. The marriage will be solemnized at St. John's Church, April 29, at noon.

A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, No. 1912 H street northwest, will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Esther celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding Thursday night at their residence, No. 303 Thirty-first street, West Washington. They were married by the Rev. Dr. Vanden Gheyn, D. C. and only one person save the aged couple is living today who witnessed the ceremony. Mrs. Samuel Smart, one of the bridesmaids, was present at the golden wedding. Each one of Mr. Esther's sons and daughters presented their parents with a $20 gold piece, and were followed by grand and great-grandchildren with $1 in gold. The aged couple were the recipients of many valuable presents made of the yellow metal and after a frugal supper the many guests left for home well pleased at attending such a pleasant gathering.

Recital at the Brazilian Legation. Mr. Bernardelli and Mr. Marcello, the two young artists who have so delighted the few lovers of music who have had the opportunity of hearing them, will give a recital of violin and piano at the Brazilian legation on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, under the patronage of Mrs. Olney, Mrs. Carlisle, Miss Herbert, Mrs. Paton, Mrs. Romero, Mrs. Mraz, Mrs. Ariaga, Mrs. Elmer, Mrs. Hears, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Winthrop, Mrs. Foster, and Mrs. de Mendonca.

One of the most acceptable sites will be tendered Mrs. Gresham if the request is made.

Soldiers' Home Directors. The Senate Committee on Military Affairs yesterday ordered a favorable report, by unanimous vote, on the list of directors of the national soldiers' homes, as agreed to Friday by the House. The committee does not believe there will be any opposition to the appointments when the question comes up in the Senate.

WILL BE MADE BISHOP TODAY

Rev. Dr. O'Gorman's Consecration to Be an Impressive Ceremony.

Dignitaries of the Church of Rome Will Officiate and St. Patrick's Will Be the Scene.

The consecration of Dr. Thomas O'Gorman as Bishop of Sioux Falls this morning will be the first observance of that ceremony in this city since that of Bishop O'Sullivan of Minn. twelve years ago. It is a most impressive rite and will be participated in by the highest dignitaries of the church. St. Peter's was the scene of Bishop O'Sullivan's consecration. St. Patrick's has been selected for this occasion. Already there is a great pressure for an opportunity to witness the spectacle and even pewholders will find difficulty unless they come punctually. Tickets might be presented at the south door on Tenth street between 9:30 and 10 a. m.

The order of the procession will be the sanctuary boys, headed by Father McGee, followed by the divinity students, each with a rector bearing a cross. Then will come the French priest visiting clergy with the highest in rank last. The prelates, consisting of vicars general and monsignors, will close this division. It will be followed immediately by the faculty of the university in caps and gowns, and then will come the bishops, archbishops, the bishops-elect, and the cardinal, accompanied by his assistant consecrators. The cardinal, archbishops, and bishops will be stationed at the parochial residence, just north of the church, and will file in line after the procession has crossed from the west side of Tenth at 6 o'clock.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the essential feature of which is the imposition of hands with prayer, a banquet will be served at Carroll Institute, at which about 400 persons, all either of the priesthood or divinity students, will be present. Thomas O'Gorman is a native of Boston but was brought up at St. Paul. When about sixteen years old his father decided to devote him to the priesthood, and he went to France to study in the seminary. This was a little more than thirty years ago. His boy companion of that voyage and of those student days is now Archbishop Ireland.

When Dr. O'Gorman returned to America he became a teacher at the theological school at St. Paul. From there he came to St. Paul, where he has since been church history. Dr. O'Gorman is one of the most brilliant orators of the church.

Anti-Division Mass Meeting.

A meeting of the Anti-Division Association will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Gunton-Temple Memorial Church, corner of Fourteenth and R streets northwest. Rev. G. N. A collection will be taken toward the growing expenses of the association and to make good the deficit in their treasury.

CARDINAL THE DEFENDANT

He Takes Exceptions to the Wording of the Testament as Vague and Indefinite.

Bartholomew Long, brother of the late Jeremiah Long, who left a will dated December 22, 1889, has brought suit for the construction of that will against Cardinal James Gibbons, Father Glynn of St. Patrick's Church, Father Gillespie of St. Aloysius Church, Father John C. Long of New York, and Thomas E. Waggaman and William F. Carney, as trustee and executor respectively. He also calls upon the trustee for an accounting. Jeremiah Long died January 12, 1895, leaving his brother as his sole heir-at-law. In his will, Mr. Long left the house and lot at No. 815 Tenth street northwest to Father Glynn and Gillespie, with instruction that they should use the rents and profits for "the education and training of a useful life of indigent children" in the District. If for any reason that bequest should prove inoperative then he devised the property to Cardinal Gibbons. The petitioner in the pending suit believes that the former bequest is invalid, because of its indefiniteness and that the alternative disposition of the property to Cardinal Gibbons is equally invalid, because it is to a "minister, public teacher or preacher of the gospel, as such," and was made within less than a month before the testator died. Mr. Long thinks that a resulting trust should fall to him as the surviving heir-at-law.

Bartholomew Long asserted that he helped to test for the house under consideration. By the will a house and lot at the corner of Fourth and H streets northwest, is given to Father Long of New York, and Mr. Long said the will was also an invalid bequest, because of the profession of the legatee. The brother was given only $500 in the will.
